WHEN THUNDER WAS SMALL.

An Incident of the Boyhood of the President's Private Secretary.

Private Secretary Thurbor has always been of an inquisitive turn of mind in all matters pertaining to religion. He will forsake a French novel at any time to discuss theology. His research has been great, and he delights in nothing so much as to rescue some old divine whose mental eyesight being dim has permitted him to stray from the path and set him in the right direction once more. Thurbor feels that the day in which he has performed such a deed has not been wasted. His friends expressed much surprise at his accepting his present office. Those who had known him from childhood were sore perplexed that one so religious as he should voluntarily venture into the devious path of politics. And their perplexity continued until they were able to appreciate the truth of his declaration that he accepted the position because he believed it to be his duty to his country. They tell a story of the first recorded speech Thurbor made into things pertaining to another life. He was but a tot, scarce out of petticoats, but quite precocious withal.

The canary bird of a little friend had died, and it had been buried in a tiny coffin with much honor. Two or three days later the owner of the bird on reaching the grave to drop her tears surprised young Thurbor before the grave, which he had opened, and with the bird in his hand.

"Why, Harry Thurbor," she cried, running up and shaking him, "what do you mean? You naughty, wicked, bad boy!"

"Why," the naughty, wicked, bad boy replied between shakes, "I—I—only—or—want—to—see—if—if—the—little—bird—birdie—ab—bad—gone—to—to—to—heaven."—Chicago Post.

DEFYING THE DOG DAYS.

Mechanical Processes Employed to Make Winter Temperature This Summer.

The effort to bring the advantages of refrigeration obtained by mechanical processes within the reach of small consumers has taken two directions—the production of small and inexpensive automatic machines at a system of supply of the refrigerant from central stations. The latter is now in successful operation at both St. Louis and Denver.

In one of the St. Louis restaurants, which the enterprising owner has decorated in a manner suggestive of the polar regions, pipes upon the walls are connected with the street line, so that in sweltering summer he can turn on the cold and defy the dog days. An atmosphere of 12 degrees below the temperature out of doors has an enticing coolness.

Another example of the varied applications of the system to be seen in a cafe window daily is a display of eatables upon a heavily frosted table. This attraction is secured by making for the top of the table a shallow closed tank completely filled with brine, through which are passed the pipes of a refrigerating coil. The brine, being cooled below the freezing point, gathers its snowy covering from the moisture of the atmosphere. Above it in the window are pipes curved to form the letters of the proprietor's name. They, too, constitute an expansion coil and glisten with a heavy, snowy coat. In a drug store an elaborate soda fountain exposes not the customary pictures of frostwork, but real frost. The refrigerating pipes are ingeniously carried through this fountain in such a way as to cool without danger of freezing the various liquids and are exposed to view in places curved in fanciful shapes and presenting a refreshing sight of dry white frost.—W. W. Smith in Casser's Magazine.

IT EATS GOLD.

A New Substance With Which the Chemists of New York Are Wrestling.

A new substance, which as yet has not been successfully classified, has been brought to the attention of chemists. It is called "trango ore."

"The discovery came about in a peculiar manner. A Spaniard who lived in Mexico was on account of political reasons obliged to flee from the country. He went to Paris, but before going buried a large quantity of gold in a stout oak chest in a secluded spot. Recently he returned and dug up his treasure. Imagine his surprise to find the chest not filled with the shining gold, but with a black kind of powder, which showed signs of animal life.

Chemical tests have shown that the black mineral, or animal which it had not been definitely determined, had consumed the gold. A quantity of trango ore has been sent to New York, where the chemists are testing for a method to recover it to its original composition. It is said that gold is indestructible and that some process can be adopted whereby the gold may be reclaimed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

New England Kicks.

The latest phase of the war in steerage rates in America is the alarm in certain circles here, over the announcement that hordes of undesirable immigrants are coming to England from the United States. There is great fear that when the rates go up these persons, as one newspaper expresses it, "will remain stuck in our portion of the drainpipe." The nature of the recent labor news from America prevents any great rush westward.—New York Sun's London Letter.

Mules in Trousers.

George Finney, an express wagon driver, has clothed his mules' fore legs in trousers. "In speaking of it he said that flies bothered the fore legs of a four footed animal more than they did the hind limbs, and he, therefore, having some respect for the comfort of his faithful servants, had made a pair of trousers to protect them from the pests. The trousers were supported by suspenders passed up over the backs of the animals."—Nebraska State Journal.

FILLMORE'S POLICY REPUDIATED.

At the close of the recent strike, when United States troops and United States Marshals took possession of the blocked railroads, J. A. Fillmore, General Superintendent of the Southern Pacific Company, was reported by the San Francisco Examiner as saying: "If I knew that a man was not true to this company, and if I found out that he has got a job anywhere, I will pursue him and use my best efforts to get him discharged."

This declaration by its General Superintendent provoked a storm of adverse criticism of the Southern Pacific methods, as it was believed that the declaration of Mr. Fillmore was sanctioned by the company. Now O. P. Huntington, President of the Company, has written a letter from New York in which he declares that Mr. Fillmore's reported policy is not the policy of the Southern Pacific Company. Mr. Huntington says "he can hardly believe that Mr. Fillmore used the language attributed to him, but if he did he was decidedly wrong."

That Mr. Fillmore did use language of similar import to that imputed to him in the Examiner interview there is ample proof. A member of the A. R. U. of Reno, who destroyed no railroad property (in fact no railroad property in this vicinity was destroyed), applied to Mr. Fillmore for work on the railroad. Mr. Fillmore's reply was that "if the applicant wanted work on a railroad he would have to go east of the Missouri to get it." That answer could scarcely be expected to endear the recipient to the company, and there is no doubt whatever of its authenticity. The man felt that he had been boycotted by a powerful corporation, which could enforce its decrees much more effectively than the A. R. U. could its boycott of the Pullman cars. Doubtless, hundreds of similar answers to applications for positions on the railroad were sent out by Mr. Fillmore, and it was but reasonable that the public should suppose that the General Superintendent was carrying out the policy of the company.

That the man who refused to handle Pullman cars on the several roads on which they are used, for the purpose of bringing the Pullman Company to terms, may have acted imprudently does not justify a great corporation like the Southern Pacific Company bounding them to death, by conspiring with other companies to prevent them from making a livelihood. A man who has to rely on his labor for support must starve, beg or steal if he cannot get employment. Mr. Fillmore's policy would compel many to do one of the three, as they have not means to pay their way east of the Missouri, and besides they might not be able to get employment on the other side of that river.

It must be gratifying to the men thrown out of employment through the late strike to know that Mr. Huntington and the owners of the Southern Pacific do not approve the policy of Mr. Fillmore, who is only an employee of the company. Mr. Huntington could not afford to do it. His company has been engaged in boycotts which are certainly no more justifiable than that of the Pullman cars, and he must forgive if he hopes to be forgiven.

Men engaged in the strike who committed no overt act, but simply quit work in compliance with the requirements of an organization of which they were members should not be black-listed and driven out of the country by a company which, if report be true, joined in the boycott of roads which would not enter into a combination to keep transportation rates as high as the traffic would bear.

CONGRESS ADJOURNED

The long session of the Fifty-third Congress adjourned yesterday. There had not been a quorum in either House for a week or more, but Congress had to remain nominally in session to prevent the defeat of the Tariff Act, which the President declined to sign, but permitted to become a law without his approval.

Two years ago the Democratic party carried the country by a decisive majority of electoral votes and members of Congress. The main issue of the campaign, according to Republican and Democratic speakers and newspapers, was the tariff question. The third party insisted that the financial question was the supreme issue, but the golden rule ridiculed the assertion. Over a year ago, a few months after his inauguration, President Cleveland convened Congress in special session, not for the purpose of changing the tariff laws—the main issue from the Republican and Democratic standpoint—but to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman Act, thus proving the truth of the assertion of the Independents that the financial question was the paramount issue.

Now, at the very close of what might be considered the second session of the Fifty-third Congress, a tariff bill has been passed. This bill, according to the figures of the Treasury experts, reduces the McKinley tariff about 11 per cent, which is, after all, the difference between the Democratic freetraders and the Republican protectionists.

The Wagner Palace Car Company filed in the Railroad Commissioners office at Albany, N. Y., yesterday, their annual report, which shows gross earnings of $4,000,000; expenses $1,000,000.

ALABAMA METHODS IN NEVADA.

In the Republican Convention which met here last Friday there were not six residents of the State east of Washoe. Humboldt had one resident delegate, Lander none, unless the State Controller has a constructive residence in that county, Eureka none, Elko three, White Pine one, Lincoln county none, unless the Lieutenant Governor has a constructive residence in that county, Nye county none. The Great East, admitting that the State Controller and Lieutenant Governor are actual and not constructive residents of that section, had seven delegates in a Republican State Convention which the trumpeters proclaim was a representative political body.

That the eastern counties do not concur in this manifesting itself through the press. The Silver State charges that the Republicans are introducing Alabama methods in Nevada by counting ballots not cast. Referring to the Republican party in Nevada it says:

It cast five votes in its convention at Reno as coming from Humboldt. The five votes were fraudulent. There was but one delegate of the party from this county and he was self-appointed, and represented no sentiment of any party in this county. There is no Republican party in Humboldt, and its twin brother was strangled to death two years ago with a Cleveland decoction of deceit and traitorous inaneousness. Some of the gentlemen whose names were mentioned as delegates from this county, we learn, have consulted a lawyer with a view of bringing a suit against the proxy convention for libel and slander.

Probably the fact that Humboldt was represented in the convention by only one resident, and he was self-appointed, and that several counties in which no delegates had been elected or appointed were represented by Carson people who assumed without authority to represent them, accounts for the noticeable fact that the only reference to the Democratic party in the platform is rather complimentary than otherwise.

THE HENNEPIN CANAL.

For many years the project of connecting the Mississippi river with the great lakes by canal has been discussed in the press and in Congress. Finally an act was passed by the present Congress authorizing the building of the canal and making an appropriation for its construction. The line of the canal has been surveyed, the trees and underwood have been removed from the first section of the right-of-way and within a few days the contract will be awarded and active work commenced. The Hennepin canal is to form one of the links of a gigantic waterway which will connect the Northwestern States with the great lakes at Chicago. It leaves the Mississippi river near the mouth of Rock river, a few miles below Rock Island, and crosses the State of Illinois to Chicago. It will make it possible for sailing craft from the Mississippi to reach the Atlantic by way of the lakes, the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river. It will materially reduce the cost of transportation from Iowa, Minnesota and the whole Northwest to Lake Michigan by opening water communication which ships can utilize by plying a small toll to the Government.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg and doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Washoe Delegates.

Following is a complete list of delegates from Washoe county to the State Convention to be held at Carson next Tuesday, September 4th: R. Ryland, H. H. Beck, T. V. Julien, E. D. Kelley, Dr. Bergstein, G. E. Holeworth, B. F. Leete, R. C. Moore, C. C. Powning, John Sunderland, W. P. McLaughlin, I. B. Marshall, R. C. Leeper, R. H. Kinney, A. D. Griffin, J. E. Sonchereau, N. J. Foxwell, T. A. Read, J. F. Crosby, George Frasier, B. A. Cooper, L. D. Smith.

CONGRESS ADJOURNS

Closing Proceedings—Not a Quorum in Either House.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—The galleries of the Senate were packed to-day with visitors. On the floor were exactly a score of Senators. Ransom and Manderson were appointed a committee to notify the President that Congress was ready to adjourn. After several short resolutions, thanking Vice President Stevenson and Senator Harris, President pro tem, were adopted the Senate was declared adjourned sine die at 2 P. M.

The galleries in the House were packed to overflowing with spectators anxious to witness the closing scenes of the session, which was to expire at 2 o'clock. The attendance on the floor was very light, the majority of the members having already gone home.

The resignation of Representative Oates, recently elected Governor of Alabama, was laid before the House.

Wilson offered a resolution, which was adopted without division, for the appointment of a committee of three members of the House, to meet a similar committee of the Senate, and wait upon the President and inform him that Congress was ready to adjourn and ascertain if he had any further communication to make. The Speaker appointed Wilson, Holman and Hepburn.

The Speaker appointed a committee to investigate the Ford Theater disaster.

A resolution to print a comparison of the new Tariff law with the present law and the Wilson bill as it passed the House was called up by Richardson of Tennessee. The vote resulted: Yeas, 72; nays, 3. Johnson of Ohio made a point of no quorum. As it was apparent that a quorum could not be mustered, appeals were made from all sides to induce Johnson to withdraw his point of order, but he refused. Johnson claimed that the comparisons proposed to be printed had been prepared under the direction of Gorman and were misleading. Finally Richardson withdrew his resolution.

The committee appointed to wait upon the President reported that he had no further communication to make. "The President also requested me," said Wilson, "to congratulate the House and Senate on the close of their labors and wish individual members a happy and prosperous vacation."

At 2 o'clock the Speaker declared the second session of the 53d Congress adjourned. Great cheering greeted the announcement.

Burned to Death While Asleep.

SANTA MONICA, August 28.—By the accidental upsetting of a candle to-night two children lost their lives in a fire in a wooden dwelling here. The children were the five-year-old son of Mrs. R. B. Grimes and the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Annie Dominguez who were asleep in a front room when the fire started. No one else was in the house except Mrs. Grimes' brother who was asleep in a rear room when he was awakened by the crackling of fire. The house was a mass of flames and he had just time enough to escape, the little ones having by that time been suffocated and burned beyond recognition.

President Cleveland Reviews the Pythian Parade.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—The feature of the Pythian encampment was a grand parade of the Uniform Rank this afternoon. Fifteen thousand Knights were in line marching by State brigades and the procession was more than two hours in passing the Presidential reviewing stand. Pennsylvania Avenue was crowded with more than 100,000 people. President Cleveland reviewed the procession from a small stand erected on the curbing just in front of the White House.

The National Banks.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—A summary of the report of 3,370 National Banks in the United States under the recent call of the Comptroller of the Currency shows on July 18, 1894, as follows: Loans and discounts, $1,983,589,932; gold coin in reserve, $125,051,675; gold Treasury certificates, $40,880,480; silver dollars, $7,016,489; total specie in reserve, $250,870,622; surplus fund undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid, $84,569,294; dividends unpaid, $2,586,504; individual deposits, $1,677,801,200.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

AUBURN, Cal., August 28.—A wind storm this afternoon followed by thunder and lightning and rain occurred here. During the storm John Isola, who was riding with his wife on the Grass Valley road, was killed by a falling tree and his wife was hurt, but not seriously.

A GOVERNOR ARRESTED

Waite of Colorado Compelled to Appear in Court and Plead.

DENVER, Col., August 28.—A warrant was issued late this afternoon for the arrest of Governor Davis H. Waite on a charge of opening and retaining a letter addressed to Mrs. Likens, formerly the matron at police headquarters. The warrant is issued by United States Commissioner Hinsdale who also issued warrants for the arrest of President Dennis Mullins of the Police Board, Hamilton Armstrong, Chief of Police, and Kate Dwyer, matron at police headquarters. All the parties named were arrested and taken before Commissioner Hinsdale. Governor Waite was highly indignant, and pleaded "not guilty," claiming that he had not opened the letter but the contents had been read to him. The hearing of the case is set for Thursday.

Opinions of Democratic Senators.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—Few Senators at the Capitol to-day refused to express any opinion for publication on the letter of Mr. Cleveland to Mr. Cutchings. The Democratic Senators said they had nothing to say, but they seemed to feel that it was aimed at them.

Sperry, a Democratic Congressman, said: "The President's description of the bill is correct. I do not see upon what ground the Democratic party can ask to be continued in power."

Representative Maguire of California said: "I consider the letter a very valuable contribution to Democratic literature for the campaign because it will remove from the minds of the people the general impression derived from the President's letter to Wilson that the tariff bill as amended by the Senate was regarded by him as vicious and its enactment perfidious and dishonorable. His present letter specifically points out his objection to the measure while fully conceding its merits as a great step in the direction of true tariff reform and as affording a new and excellent point of vantage in the fight for Democratic principles."

Wrecked Excursionists Enjoying the Novelty.

PORT TOWNSEND, August 28.—The steamer City of Topeka reports the stranded steamer Queen was floated on Sunday last after several hundred tons of coal had been discharged overboard and her anchors and chains removed from her forward hold and taken ashore. The steamer is now beached at Alert Bay, ten miles from where she struck the rocks. Though the boulder penetrated her forward compartment, knocking off a plate and admitting a large volume of water, Captain Carroll believes he can patch up the aperture and return to the Victoria dry-dock for repairs. The Topeka reports the excursionists are encamped on Cormorant Island enjoying the novelty of outdoor life in Alaska.

The Serious Mistake of a Father.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, August 28.—Last night Dr. Anderson O'Mally, a young New York physician, shot his three-year-old son accidentally and then killed him to put him out of pain. His wife and himself have been very nervous about burglars and have been keeping awake several nights. They heard the door in the child's room creak. The father went in with a cocked pistol. He saw no one. He poked his little nephew and his own son with the pistol to cause them to turn over, the pistol went off shooting the child in the side and the father then put his pistol to its head and killed it to relieve it of its misery as he said he knew the wound was fatal. He is now under arrest and is almost insane.

Troublesome Indians in Alaska.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., August 28.—The steamer City of Topeka brings news from Juneau, Alaska, that a fierce battle occurred at Chilkoot last week between the Indians who had become drunk on whiskey furnished them by smugglers and that six Indians were killed. The officers had left Juneau to seize the liquor remaining, arrest the smugglers and quiet the Indians. Fears are expressed for the safety of white settlers living near the scene of the trouble.

Saved Her Life.

Mrs. C. J. Woodruff, of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. "One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician and was supposed to be well under control. One night it was started by the child's hard breathing, and on going to find it struggling, it had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and has the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

SOUTHEASTERN NEVADA.

A Country of Vast and Varied Resources—Effects of Silver Demonetization—The Governorship.

ELKO, Nevada, August 27, 1894.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—"Nevada and her Resources" is the title of a neat pamphlet of some eighty odd pages issued by the State Bureau of Immigration some time ago and is devoted to the presentation of the great mineral, agricultural and other resources of the several counties of the State, all of which have been ably and truthfully set forth in the most attractive form, excepting White Pine county, which is not fully reported. This was, no doubt, unintentionally overlooked. The descriptive references to this county and her resources, particularly the southeastern part, is singularly meagre. The county is beyond question one of the richest and in many respects the most desirable part of the State to locate and establish homes, and for men of means to make good and permanent investments in mines, ranches, pastoral and fruit properties—yes, southeastern White Pine is rich in all of the material elements that go to make up a prosperous and happy community. Rich in gold, silver, copper, lead, iron and all other metals known to the commerce of the world, besides producing grain and fruits, many of which are semi-tropical.

The greater portion of Nevada that is traversed by the Central Pacific R.R. is doubtless the most barren and uninviting part of the State, excepting a greater part of Southern Nye and Esmeralda counties, which have within their respective limits the great Armo-gosa and Ralston deserts. It is also a fact that the impression prevails among well informed persons that Southeastern White Pine is a dry, dreary desert region almost waterless and treeless and that her mountain ranges contain only low grade ores, whereas the contrary are the facts as I shall demonstrate by facts and figures that will bear a most rigid examination.

Having recently visited this region of country with a view of examining mines and agricultural possibilities and water supply I have been amazingly surprised at the natural wealth of this country. I will therefore give the many readers of the JOURNAL the benefit of my examination and observations for the purpose of doing justice to this valuable portion of our State that seems to be so little known. I find that in place of dry desert plains many pleasant and well watered valleys containing a large number of farmers with nice homes and surroundings similar to those of older States and in some instances discounting our neighbors across the Nevada.

STEPTOE VALLEY

In White Pine county is bounded on the east by the Shell Creek range and on the west by Egan range. After passing Butte valley I entered Steptoe at Cherry Creek, once a prosperous mining village of some 2,000 or more persons with its mines and mills in full blast, but at present all are silent as the grave. Nothing is heard but the occasional bray of the forlorn and lonely donkey on the neighboring hills. There still, however, remains some twenty families, numbering about one hundred persons who are chiefly engaged in stockraising, thereby hoping to tide over to better times or until our masters in Wall Street may have sufficiently filled their great, greedy maws from our hard earned salaries. This they will not until we show ourselves to be men and not galley slaves. A single standard means slavery of the masses and a double standard means financial freedom not only from the gold barons of Wall Street, but from the money power of Europe. There must be no temporizing at the present time; no trading of horses in the middle of the stream of financial distress. He who thinks there is any relief to be had in either of the old parties will be greatly disappointed, as both have been tried and found wanting. But I have switched off from the main subject, as I continued southward up Steptoe valley passing, every three or four miles, pleasant homes surrounded by shade trees, nice flowers and vegetable gardens and fields of Lucerne, grain and wild hay, all well watered either from one or more of the numerous springs, or from the large beautiful streams of cold, clear water making down into the valley through the gulches, first on one side and then the other, the most numerous being on the Egan side of the range. While all of the ranches from Cherry Creek to Cave Creek valley are fine, some special mention should be made of Mr. Campbell, A. H. McGill and Senator Comins. The two latter places are but a few miles from Ely, the county seat of White Pine. This particular portion of White Pine county that I refer to is situated along the borders of the Utah line, commencing a little north of latitude 41 degrees north; thence south to 38 degrees, a distance of some 140 geographical miles and extending westward nearly to the Nye county line and embracing Steptoe Valley, Spring Valley and the greater portion of Snake Valley. Senator Comins and A. H. McGill have undoubtedly the two largest and best arranged ranches in Steptoe Valley, and each have a superabundance of water for all purposes from the Steptoe, Murray and Duck creeks. The productiveness of Steptoe Valley are well attested when you look and see the large number of ricks of hay and the waving fields of grass. Nearly all of the ranches that I passed have commodious sheds for stock and for housing their stock, machinery and tools.

It may not be inappropriate to mention that Senator Comins' friends may present his name before the Silver Convention, to soon meet at Carson, as a candidate for Governor. He is highly esteemed and popular with all parties. Senator Comins is an old resident of the State and is well qualified for the position. He possesses a mind singularly gifted and finely balanced and as Governor would do honor to himself and be a credit to the people who elected him. He is a sound free silver coinage man and an honest man who can look you square in the eye. The west have had heretofore the majority of the Governors and Congressmen and the United States Senators, the east, therefore, claims the Governorship in the person of the Hon. H. A. Comins of White Pine county, I can assure you the people are alive to the importance of the issue in the coming campaign. The campaign fires of the Silver party of the East will soon burn brightly from valley to mountain, gathering force in its grand march to victory until the last feeble voice and discordant notes of the Nevada goldbug shall be no longer heard within her borders.

My next letter in a day or two will commence at the sprightly little town of Ely with its mines and other surrounding; thence to Ward and Taylor district, showing the desolation of villages and destruction of fine mills and mining property in consequence of the demonetization of silver; also Osceola and Spring Valley and Snake Valley and other points, which I will relate the wonderful resources of this highly interesting portion of White Pine county, its rich mines of both gold and silver, and production of the ranches, together with the gold output of Osceola, all of which will be presented for the consideration of your readers.

JOHN S. MATHUGH.

CAMP POJAUDE.

A Thousand Visitors Present—Strict Discipline—Pretty Waiter Girls—Grand Success.

Monday evening Treadway's park was crowded to overflowing with interested sight-seers to witness the initial dress parade of the soldiers who inhabit Camp Pojaude, thus called in honor of the Lieutenant Governor of Nevada.

At precisely 7 o'clock the sharp blast of a trumpet announced the order to "fall in." This was followed by the Artillery Band striking up a lively march and proceeding to the headquarters of the various companies for the purpose of escorting them to their respective positions on the parade ground. The first company to make its appearance was the Nationals, who were immediately followed by Company A, Company F, Company G and Battery A. Upon reaching their allotted places Col. Lord and Adjutant Haas put them through various military maneuvers, much to the enjoyment of the onlookers.

Adjutant Haas then read the regimental orders, which was followed by more drilling and parading, after which they were ordered to break ranks. The Artillery Band remained on the ground until the sounding of taps, rendering beautiful selections for the amusement of visitors. Great enthusiasm prevailed all evening; singing and dancing, courting and flirting and everything tending to gaiety was indulged in. Verily the brass band has a great attraction for the weaker sex.

At 9 o'clock, however, tattoo was sounded and the visitors began to disperse. At 10 o'clock taps were sounded and the dwellers of the little white city hid themselves to their respective tents. A few minutes later all was as quiet as a church-yard, the occasional call of the sentinel of "all's well" being the only disturbing element. Surgeon-General S. L. Lee yesterday issued orders discontinuing the use of ice water on the grounds. Now, the Tribune suggests that Col. Lord cap the climax by issuing and enforcing the order that no more intoxicating liquors be brought on the grounds except for medical purposes.

The dancing pavilion in the picnic grounds is utilized as a mess room. It was a wise selection and the committee having the matter in charge is deserving of great credit. At the camp headquarters the reply to the inquiry regarding the condition of the food was that it gave universal satisfaction. A corps of handsome young ladies is engaged as waiters and a noticeable feature is that the gallant youths in blue are all served alike, thus avoiding the requisite tip which is a popular custom in hotels.—Tribune.

Meeting of the Faculty.

The Faculty of the University held a meeting yesterday and conferred with the new President, Dr. Scubbs. The meeting was devoted to a discussion of methods and a general exchange of views relating to the welfare of the school. It was in the nature of a family gathering and was held so that the teachers could become more thoroughly acquainted with the new President.

A WEDDING TOUR UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

A Newly Married Couple Beats the Blind Highway out of Chicago and Arrives in Reno in Eleven Days.

A week ago last Saturday while one of the railroad boys was inspecting cars that had been set out here, he discovered that one of them was occupied. Supposing a gang of "hobos" were concealed in the car he slid the door open and said: "Well how many of you are there?" A fairly dressed young man replied "only my wife and me." The railroad man was astonished and swung himself up into the car, expecting to find that he was being fooled. He found however, lying on some pieces of burlap in one corner of the car, what appeared to be a woman. The man in the car spoke to her saying well, calling her by name, "they are on to us and we'll have to get out." The woman arose shook her clothes down and presented a neat lady like appearance. The couple were taken into the waiting room, where the man produced his marriage certificate, which gave the names of the couple and stated that they were married in Chicago, Ill., July 10th 1894. The young man then told his story which is in substance as follows; the young man was at work and had saved up a few dollars; they were married and had bought $150.00 worth of furniture on the installment plan, and gone to house keeping and during the strike he had lost his place. He still owed $30 on the furniture and the heartless dealer finding that the fellow was out of a job came around and took the furniture away, leaving the couple in the bare rooms. Plans were talked over at once and it was decided to make the trip out west, and on the evening of August 7th at 9:30 the young people jumped on the platform of a blind baggage and rode out of the Union Depot at Chicago for Cal., having only $5 in money to make the trip. On platforms and in box cars they made Ogden, where they succeeded in capturing the car that brought them here. The young fellow was about twenty-six years of age and the girl three or four years younger. Both were intelligent and good looking, and while telling his experience the young fellow looked at the girl and said, "she is a game little woman." On the evening of the day of their arrival here they were seen to dart across the platform hand in hand and it is presumed that they got out on No. 4, which was just pulling out.

Palpitation of the Heart and A General Break Down

The Good Effect of Hood's was Marked and Permanent.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I was taken down sick last December, and became very weak with nervous trouble, palpitation of the heart, and a general break down. I had a good physician, but he failed to get me better. I could sit up only about half a day, until the 18th of March, when I concluded I would give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. When I had used it a short time, I could get up and go all about the house all day. I have never enjoyed perfect health, but am now taking my fifth bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and know it has helped me wonderfully. I have used Hood's Pills, and think them excellent." Mrs. A. E. ORDERS VERSUS SCUMPLES.

A Soldier Punished for Refusing to Obey Target Shooting on Sunday.

Charles O. Codrington, private, Company A, Second Infantry, stationed at Omaha, has been found guilty of disobeying his superior officer in refusing because of religious scruples to attend target practice on Sunday and sentenced to be confined at hard labor for a period of six months and to forfeit to the United States $10 per month of his pay for the same period. This is the first time such a case has arisen in the annals of the army, and the decision and finding of the court martial established a precedent for future cases of a similar nature. The case has attracted a great deal of attention in army and religious circles.

The defense was practically limited to the contention that the order, in respect of which disobedience was charged, was an unlawful one in that—first, it enjoined a duty to be performed on Sunday in violation of orders and regulations limiting Sunday labor in the army to the measure of strict necessity, and, second, that the act required to be done would have been a violation of section 241 of the criminal code of Nebraska. The decision says:

"That a commanding officer has a discretion under existing orders to require target practice by his command on Sunday in case of necessity is undoubted.

The evidence in this case fails to fix upon the commanding officer any abuse of discretion in the issue of the order complained of by the accused. The legality of that order and the obligation of the accused to obey it when duly transmitted to him cannot be questioned. It was not for him to judge of the necessity for the issuance of the order. The discretion pertained to his commanding officer as to whether one existed, and, whether or not, it was his duty to obey

it. That soldier stationed at Bellevue title range, Nebraska, who, as individuals, engaged in hunting and shooting on Sunday, would be within the provisions of the sections referred to and ha-ble to its penalties, but after careful consideration the reviewing authority is of the opinion that this state could not make, nor has it by this section or any other legislation to which his attention has been called, attempted to make the performance on Sunday of target practice or any other duty pertaining to the instruction and discipline of the army a criminal offense."

The occasion is deemed opportune for inviting the attention of the department to the fact that the obligations of military service will never permit a soldier to refuse obedience to an order because in his judgment it is unreasonable. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Do your scalp itch?
Is it dry or in a heated condition? If there are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the disease of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither mercury nor oil. It is not a dye, but a delightful cooling and refreshing tonic. It stimulates the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions by the use of Skookum Root Hair Grower. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on the scalp and cause itching and dandruff. It grows hair on bald spots.
